

Fraunces Tavern® Museum

School Program Social Narrative

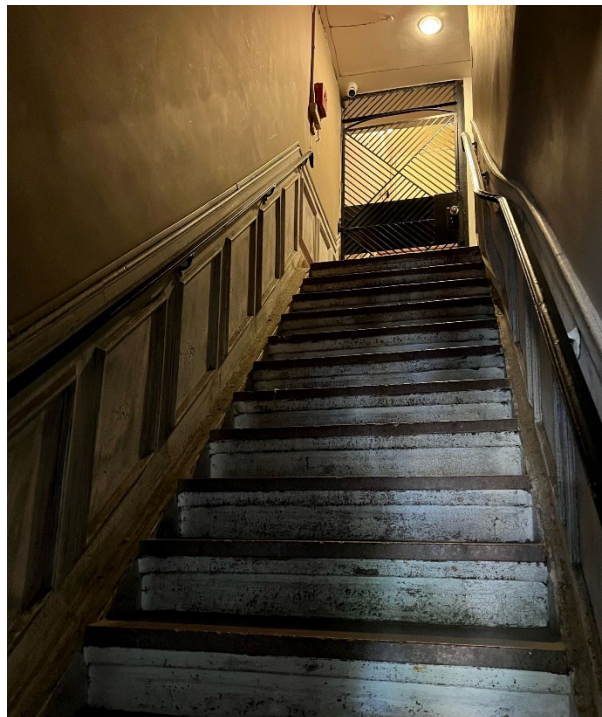

I am going to a school program at Fraunces Tavern Museum. At the Museum, we will learn about the Revolutionary War.

When we arrive at the Museum, we will enter through the door at 58 Pearl Street.

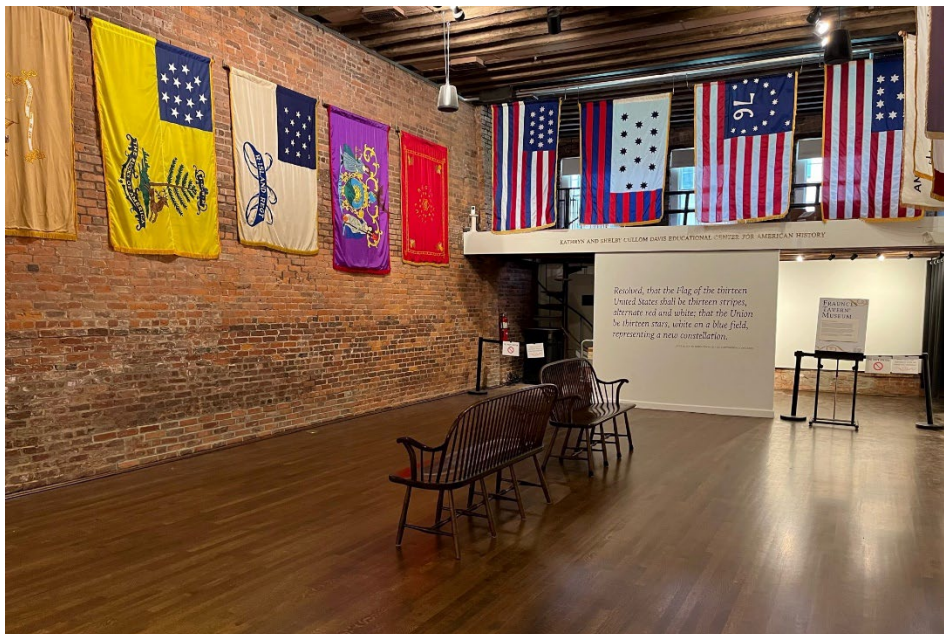

We will walk up a long flight of stairs.

If we have any bags or coats, we will leave them in the baskets.

When we are in the Museum, we will sit on the floor in the Flag Gallery. Our Educator will tell us what we are doing today and will ask us some questions about the Revolutionary War. If I want to answer a question, I can raise my hand.

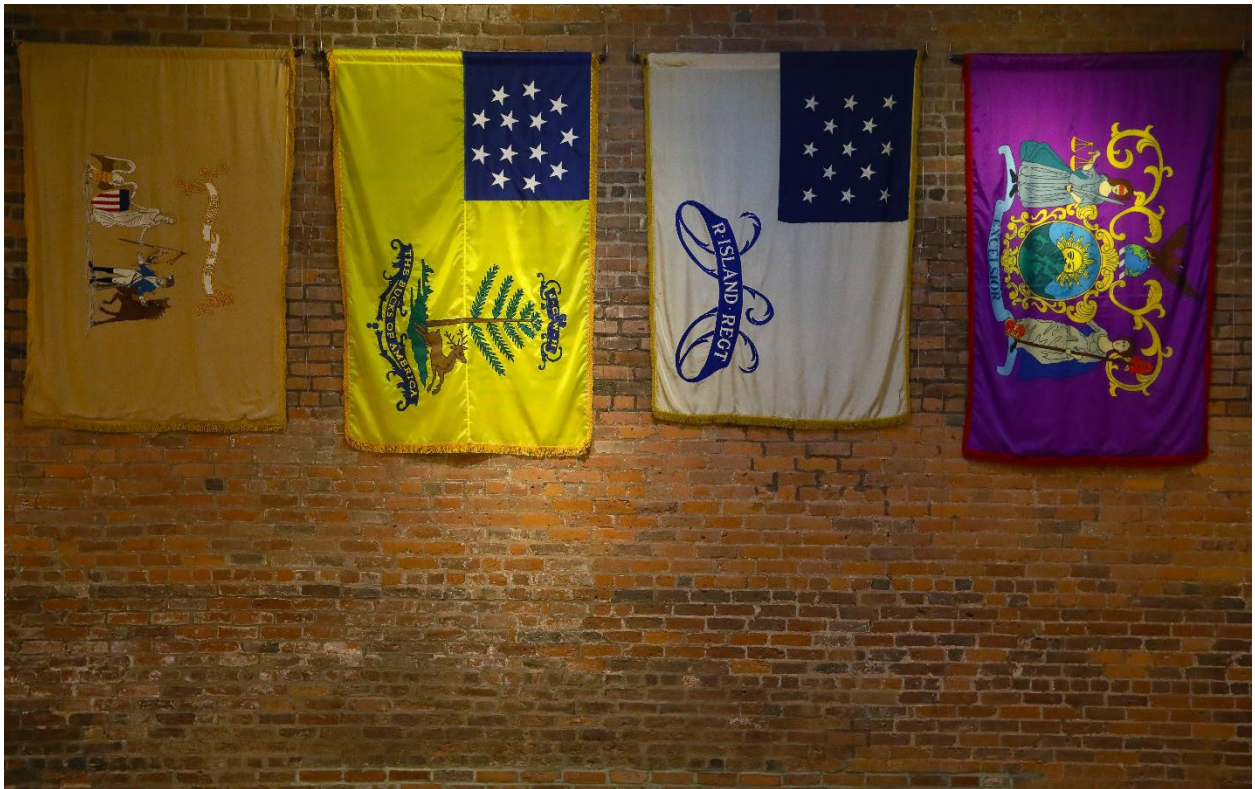

We will visit the Long Room. This room has artifacts from the 1700s. It is the site of George Washington's farewell to his officers at the end of the Revolutionary War. Our Educator will tell us more about this room and answer our questions.

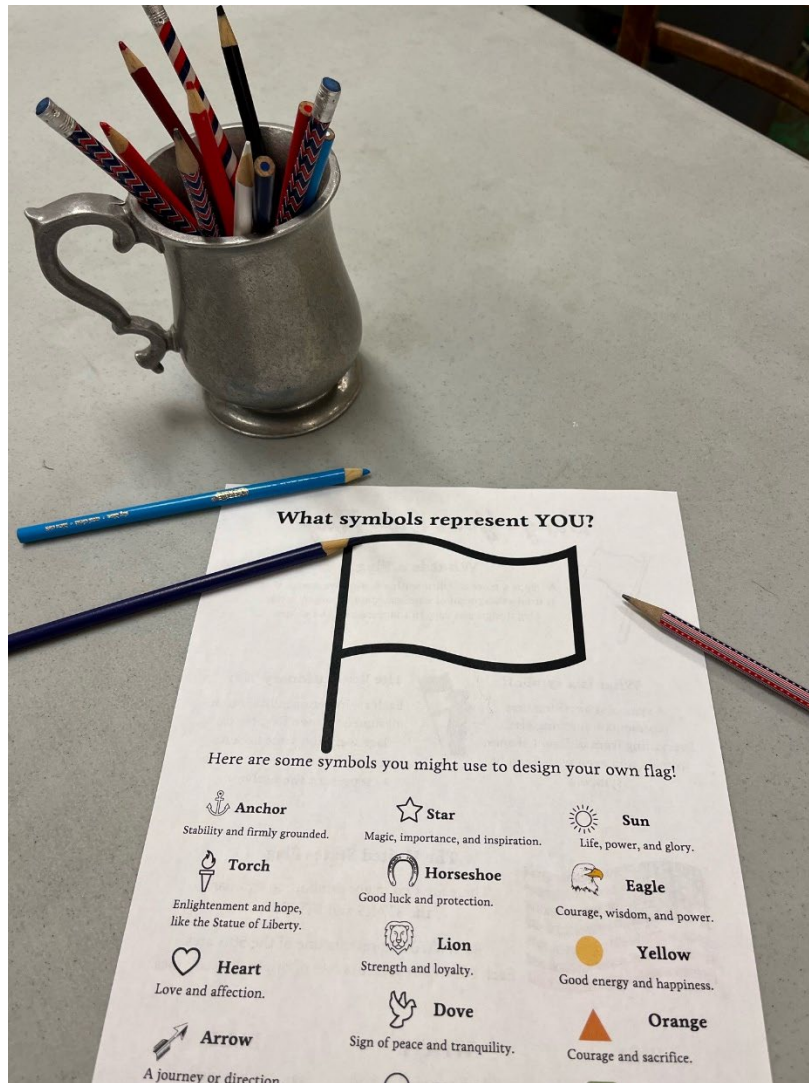

Next, we will return to the Flag Gallery. We will talk about objects from the 1700s. Our teacher will break us into small groups. Each group will have an object to look at closely. We will try to guess what this object is! We will share our objects with the rest of the class.

Then, we will look at the flags. Our Educator will talk to us about the symbols on the flags. We will talk about between 2 and 3 flags. These are some of the flags we may talk about.

Finally, we will be given a worksheet to design our own flag! We can choose any colors or symbols to represent us on our flag. We will take these flags home with us, so it's ok if we can't finish them at the Museum.

When the school program is over, we will take our things from the baskets. If I need to use the bathroom before we leave, I can ask my teacher.

When it is time for us to leave, our teacher will lead us down the staircase to exit the Museum. The door says, “Emergency Exit Only,” but we are allowed to use it.

I hope I can come back to the Museum soon and learn more about the Revolutionary War!
